1. SERVICES

Alchemy Outdoors LLC and AUQUI MOUNTAIN SPIRIT E.I.R.L. create personalized experiences that are adapted to each traveler's interests, formulating suggestions focused on the satisfaction of their expectations.

The details of the hired services will be presented in the itinerary. The offer of some services which are not directly under our control does not imply solidary liability, as these supplying third parties are responsible for offering their own services.

2. PRIVACY

Safeguarding your privacy is vital to us. Therefore, our company guarantees you that the personal information that will be requested from you (Identification documents, bank account numbers, credit card numbers, e-mail, telephone numbers, information on personal tastes, interests, preferences, etc.) will not be used for any other purpose different from that of the service we offer you.

According to the type of service you will hire, we will request that you should send us the necessary information for the organization of the trip, which includes flight reservations, hotels or any other services that require it. The initial payment is understood as the authorization, on the traveler's part, for Alchemy Outdoors and AUQUI MOUNTAIN SPIRIT E.I.R.L. to make use of the pertinent information for the adequate organization of the experience.

3. REQUIREMENTS AND RESTRICTIONS FOR STAYING IN PERU

Depending on your nationality, the necessary documents to enter Peru can vary. It is common that a valid passport should be required. However, the traveler will have to make the respective consultations at their country's consulate, so as to compile the information relevant to other requirements and restrictions that may exist. It is the traveler's responsibility to make sure their passport is valid, as well as any other document that is necessary to them, in order to maintain their stay in Peru.

4. PERSONAL WELFARE

4.1 It is important to have adequate personal travel insurance. However, consider that some insurance companies do not cover risks over 3,000 meters above sea level. Therefore, it is necessary that you should carefully revise your insurance contracts' coverage policies. It is the traveler's responsibility to hire an insurance policy, and to know the details of its coverage.

We suggest an insurance that covers eventualities, such as the trip's annulation or shortening, evacuation expenses, in case of emergency, medical expenses, repatriation expenses, damages, theft, loss of personal luggage, money and goods.

Alchemy Outdoors and AUQUI MOUNTAIN SPIRIT E.I.R.L., its representatives, collaborators and other parties related with the company, will not be held responsible for any costs and losses caused or suffered by the traveler, or for depending or accompanying travelers, regarding any eventuality, accidental event or Act of God happening during service.

It is the customers' sole responsibility to hire an emergency insurance, due respect to the eventualities described in the previous paragraph.

4.2 Your HEALTH is important to us. So, we wish your experience to be pleasant and enjoyable. We remind you that a visit to the Peruvian Andes implies the undertaking of activities at an average of 3,000 meters above sea level, and higher. Given that consideration, you must:

© Auqui Mountain Spirit Eirl.

- Visit your practitioner for a general check-up, check your shots (Vaccines) and take the necessary precautions related to your experience.

- Communicate to the service supplier, blood pressure problems, dizziness or any other troubles related to altitude or risky activities.
- Individuals older than 60 years of age are in the obligation of consulting their physician about their physical aptitude.

With the initial payment, you accept being in the adequate health conditions to undertake the trip, as much in the traveler's case, as in that of their accompanying party who we are pleased to serve.

5. PRECAUTIONS

Prevention and precautions are important, when considering the activities to be undertaken. Seeking to create a better experience, and upon the traveler's request, the company can suggest, program and organize the performance of different activities implying the adequate precautions for certain levels of risks.

All preventive measures inherent to our services are taken into consideration. However, Alchemy Outdoors and AUQUI MOUNTAIN SPIRIT E.I.R.L. do not assume liability for situations which escape its control.
